Application Package Documents

Sample Application: Updated 12/2015. HUD does not provide an application for use on Section 8 properties, but indicates that the application must be designed so that the owner/agent can make a preliminary eligibility determination. This sample conforms to the resident selection plan included on this CD. If the resident selection plan is edited, edit the application appropriately. Alternatively, if you already have an application that works for you, use that application instead of this sample. Please be sure the application conforms to the resident selection plan. For example, if the resident selection plan indicates that you conduct a rental history review with the last three landlords, the application should ask for the contact information for the last three landlords. This application has been modified based on customer feedback.

Sample Pre-Application: Updated 12/2015. HUD does not provide an application for use on Section 8 properties, but indicates that the application must be designed so that the owner/agent can make a preliminary eligibility determination. This sample pre-application can be used when an owner/agent is managing a long waiting list and does not need to collect information likely to change before the applicant approaches the top of the waiting list. A full application must be completed by the applicant(s) before the final eligibility determination starts. Please be sure the application conforms to the resident selection plan. This application has been modified based on customer feedback.

Sample Application Package: Updated 11/28/2016. Added new language based on guidance provided in the new VAWA Final Rule published 11/2016. This is a cover letter for the Application Package. This document also includes instruction for each document that should be attached to the application. This should be edited based on your requirements. For Section 8 programs, owner/agents are required to provide certain documents. These include:

- Application
- Notice of Requirement to verify non-citizen eligibility
- Citizenship Declaration
- HUD Form 92006 Supplement to the Application

Other documents are provided at application, during the eligibility interview or at move-in. We have created an application package that includes documents that, in our opinion, should be part of a standard package. However, as long as you comply with HUD requirements, you can edit this document to conform to your own policies and procedures. You can edit and use this package or you can use a package that has already been created for your property.

Sample Application Package Cover Letter: Updated 11/28/2016. Added new language based on guidance provided in the new VAWA Final Rule published 11/2016. This is a separate cover letter for an Application Package. It is only the basic cover letter and should be edited so that the contents described in the letter match what you include as part of your application package.
